

Daada & Naomi Luogon

We have served with the London City Mission, based in King's Cross, Paget Christian Centre, for the last 1 years. During our time in London there have been significant changes and redevelopment over the years. We reach out and minister in one of the toughest council estates, with one parent families, prostitution, drugs, gangs, knife crime and killings and significant unemployment and poverty. However, it is now one of the main gateways to the European continent.

I am the team leader in Paget Christian Centre and one of the pastoral visitors in LCM. My role includes the day to day running of the centre and leading a team of four missionaries innovating their gifts and talents across the various activities that we run weekly, also giving leadership, mentoring and pastoral guidance to the team, including four other missionaries.
